Parador de La Palma

The Parador: The Parador de la Palma is situated in an area of great natural beauty, overlooking the sea near Santa Cruz de la Palma, the island’s capital, and also close to the airport. The island of La Palma offers not only its beautiful beaches, but also some outstanding scenery, especially in the mountainous Caldera de Taburiente in the north of the island, which is a National Park. Hikers will also want to explore the historic irrigation channels carved into the rock over the centuries, a remarkable feature of the island.

Directions
The Island of La Palma is easily accessed by boat or airplane. Ferries operate from Los Cristianos in the South of Tenerife. The boat arrives at the Port of Santa Cruz and visitors then follow the main road south in the direction of Breña Baja. Having entered the region known as El Drago, they then take the turn-off towards San Antonio (2 km). On reaching this town, the main road then turns off towards El Zumacal, with the Parador located approx. 2 km away. From the UK, La Palma can be reached by plane via Madrid, Las Palmas (Gran Canaria) and Tenerife North (Tenerife) to Santa Cruz de La Palma. Many UK airlines fly to Gran Canaria and Tenerife and Binter Canarias operates flights from these destinations to La Palma. (Flights to Tenerife can be to Tenerife North or South and it is important to remember that Binter flies to La Palma from Tenerife North.) By plane, from the airport of El Mazo, visitors take the main road which links the airport to the town of Santa Cruz de La Palma and, having reached El Drago (3 km), then follow the route described above for arriving by boat.
